First Love Live!
~Step! ZERO to ONE~
FAN CALLBOOK

Introduction - What is this book?

What you have in your hand right now is a "Call Guide/Book". These are free books given by fans of the community in order to help guide and teach you throughout the day(s) of the concert.

In this guide, we will teach you the basic calls you should shout back during various MCs and songs during the concert as well as basic actions you should do with your light stick. There is also an accompanying Concert Guide in which we outline the basics of idol concerts and equipment.

If you have a programmable Kingblade (see the Concert guide), this is the QR code that matches the official Aqours First Live Kingblade.

Mikan -> Sakura Pink -> Emerald Green -> Red -> Light Blue -> White -> Yellow -> Violet -> Pink

Friendly PSA to Live Viewing Attendees

DO NOT TAKE PICTURES OR VIDEO OF THE LIVE VIEWING!!

We'd like to remind everybody to please DO NOT film or record ANY part of this LV.

This includes Snapchat/Instagram/etc. If you are caught recording you can and will be kicked out with no refund. It WILL impact your country's future chances of getting another LV, as Japanese companies take copyright infringement VERY seriously.

Basically if any part of your country's LV is recorded and put on the internet you've basically ruined your country's chances of getting another LV / other anime movies or showings in the future. This is especially important for countries that have just gotten LV's for the first time for Aqours, as they are testing the waters right now to gauge the market. Any negative things can and will impact future chances. Do not get your country blacklisted. It only takes one person to create a bad image for the entire community.

DON'T RISK IT, AND SAY SOMETHING IF YOU SEE OTHERS RECORDING OR REPORT THEM TO THE STAFF.

Seiyuu Call and Response

(information as of 27/12/16, thanks to @meguchiinyan)

Towards the start of the concert, the Seiyuu of the girls will do a standard introduction along with a call and response segment afterwards. Although they cannot hear you, this is just a common thing to hype up the crowd and can be fun to participate in.

These calls and responses will follow the order the girls did their ones at during the Christmas Mini Live in December, 16.

Aikyan – Yohane

Aikyan: Ohayohane!

Audience: Ohayoshiko!

Aikyan: Dakara Yohane yo!

Aikyan and audience: Pyon~ (Do a little hop)

King – Hanamaru

King: Ohana~

Audience: Maru! (Make a circle above your head with your arms)

Aiai – Ruby

Aiai: Kyou mo ichinichi

Aiai and audience: Ganbaruby!

Rikyako – Riko

Rikyako: Biichi, sukecchi?

Audience: Sakurauchi~

Rikyako: Suki no tabemono wa

Audience: Sandouicchi~

Anchan – Chika

The third kan kan mikan is slower and emphasized!

Anchan: Kan kan

Audience: Mikan!

Anchan: Kan kan

Audience: Mikan!

Anchan: Kaan~ Kaan~

Audience: Mi-ka-n!

Shukashuu – You

The beginning part depends on the stage/venue.

Shukashuu: [Location] ni mukatte, zensoku zenshin!

Audience and Shukashuu: Yousoro! (Point your fingers straight ahead)

Shukashuu: Kara no~

Audience and Shukashuu: Keirei! (salute here)

Suwawa – Kanan

Suwawa: Minna-san gokigen ikaga kanan?

Audience: Daibu ii kanji~

Suwawa: Yoshi, Ja hagu shiyou (Hug someone)

Arisha – Dia

Increase your pitch for the hoooo~

Arisha: Minna-san, Daiyahoo!

Audience: Daiyahoo!

Arisha: BUU BUU desu wa!
(repeat again)

Ainya – Mari

Ainya: SHINY!

Audience: SHINY!

Ainya: And, Lock on!

Song calls and chants 101

A more detailed guide by /u/afdd931 with video demos and examples can be found here:

<https://redd.it/5gmna8>

Hai Chant

Repeatedly chant “hai” (with and when the beat begins); used during instrumental breaks and or a follow up to a PPPH.

Hai Call Combo

Two regular hai called then followed by four faster hai, “Hai! Hai! HiHiHiHi”.

PPPH

A follow up to a Seno Call during the pre-chorus by repeatedly chanting, “Oooh > Hai”. Then followed up with a Hai Chant before entering the chorus of the song.

Keep in mind not all songs will preface a PPPH with a Seno Call or finish a PPPH with a Hai Chant.*

Fuwa Chant

Chanting Fuwa four times consecutively; a “Seno Call” follows up during the chorus, “fuwafuwafuwafuwa”.

Standalone Fu Chant

Unlike other chant/call that uses the “fu” in its combos. The standalone fu can be used in various ways that allow this chant to infuse itself with the music.

Seno Call

Used to lead into another chant/call, “seno > (chant)”. Depending when it’s used will determine what next chant is to follow up with.

During Pre-Chorus: Hai Call Combo > PPPH

During Chorus: Fuwa Chant

Lyric Chant

Essentially, knowing the song in order to shout out phrases from the lyrics itself or as the backup vocals similarly like responses.

(eg: Shouting back “OH YES DOKI DOKI SUNSHINE” during Kimi Kokoro)

Chorus Combos

There are various types of chorus chants/calls. The choice of combo depends on the rhythm and possibly lyrics of each song’s chorus.

Combo 1 (Most Common)

* Part A: Oooh > FuFu

* Part B: Seno > FuwaFuwaFuwaFuwa

Combo 2

* Part A: FuFu

* Part B: FuFu

* Part C: Seno > FuwaFuwaFuwaFuwa

Call Guide

While we have done our best to make sure the calls are as accurate as possible, it may not be 100% correct as fans may interpret songs in different ways. Take it as a guideline, listen to audience cues, and remember to have fun!

The song order in this guide are as follows:

- First Single (Kimi no Kokoro wa Kagayaiteru kai?)
- Second Single (Koi ni Naritai AQUARIUM)
- Anime OP Single (Aozora Jumping Heart)
- Anime ED Single (Yume Kataru yori Yume Utaou)
- Anime Insert Singles
- Blu-ray Disc Singles
- SIF Collab Single (Jingle Bells ga Tomaranai)
- Subunit Singles

Legend:

Red Text: Lyrics you should shout back

Ultra Orange / Switch Blade to Orange  : When you should switch your blade to orange or pop an Ultra Orange.

Normally, popping UOs is generally left to personal preference. A general rule of thumb to follow is to pop them either during the final chorus of your favorite songs, or moments of hype during certain songs, as well as during any parts that bring Chika into focus, as she is the leader with an image color very similar to orange.

If you're not sure of when you should pop UOs/switch your blade to orange, here are some possible areas that you could do it:

KimiKoko: At the ChikaRiko duet

YumeTera: At the final chorus, right before "Kienai"

OmoHito: At the YouChika duet at the beginning, as well as the YouChika bridge

MiraTike: At the Chika solo after the first chorus

Feel free to do it anytime; you're not limited to songs with Chika in them. For example, if you especially love Strawberry Trapper a lot, then you could have popped UOs for the whole song just to show off your hype for it being performed live.

Ultra Blue / Switch Blade to Blue  : A new thing for LLSS, and is applicable for Koi ni Naritai AQUARIUM and Mirai TICKET because of the clear blue shifts in their PVs.
